

We are looking for an experienced

Clay Modeler (m/f)

Who we are

The DC Group is a leading service provider for the automotive design industry. Our world class clients trust us as a reliable partner, when it comes to CAS or CAS projects or building entire show cars and design prototypes.

Your profile

- a team player who is willing to stand up to a challenge
- passionate about automotive design and takes personal pride on a job well done
- an initiative mindset, able to see problems and find solutions
- foresight and time management skills
- an ability to understand deadlines and time vs quality restraints
- an attention to detail with quality always in mind
- knowledge of model making processes within a clay model
- reliable and punctual while understanding flexibility is welcomed
- good communication and interaction skills in German and/or English
- willing to maintain an enjoyable working environment within a motivated team
- attitude and ability more important than years of experience
- presentation of self, work, and working environment at the height of prerequisites.

Start immediately

Location Dachau

Do you think you fit the profile? Are you interested to work in a successful, creative and future orientated company? Then go ahead and send us your complete CV and portfolio including an application letter and your earliest starting date to:

hr@creative-wave.com

We are looking forward to hear from you!

Creative Wave GmbH
Rudolf-Diesel-Str. 12
85221 Dachau

